Examples of Bibliographic References
(Some of these are chosen because they're the oldest I could find.)

Books (note "edition")

Kennedy, William J., and James E. Gentle (1980), Statistical Computing, Marcel Dekker, Inc., New York.

Gentle, James E. (2003), Random Number Generation and Monte Carlo Methods, second edition, Springer, New York.

Edited Book

Gentle, James E.; Wolfgang Härdle; and Yuichi Mori, editors (2004), Handbook of Computational Statistics, Springer, Berlin.

Journal Article

Gentle, James E.; Ralph L. Kodell; and Patricia L. Smith (1975), On the distribution of the studentized bivariate range, Technometrics 17, 501–505.

Article in Proceedings

Gentle, J. E.; W. J. Kennedy; and V.A. Sposito (1975), Properties of the L_1-estimate space, Proceedings of the Statistical Computing Section, ASA, 163–164.

Article in Edited Book or Edited Proceedings

Hartley, H. O., and J. E. Gentle (1975), Data monitoring criteria for linear models, A Survey of Statistical Design and Linear Models, edited by J. N. Srivastava, North Holland Publishing Co., Amsterdam, 197–207.

Web Site

Gentle, James E. (2013), Theory of Statistics,
`http://mason.gmu.edu/~jgentle/books/MathStat.pdf` (accessed February 1, 2015).